ABOUT YAMBRA

Yambra was born on Gunditjmara country in Warrnambool, Victoria.

Yambra grew up on Jaara country in Castlemaine, the traditional country of his people for much of his childhood along with his siblings, he attended primary school before moving to Naarm, Melbourne where he would finish his primary schooling and onto secondary school in Reservoir.

Yambra's love of music was always present as he believed a connection to sound was intangible. Music was the foundation of his home, where he was raised on multi-genres from Gospel to Blues, Country to RnB and Hip Hop.

After his first single "Stormin" was released, this was the catalyst that set forth the hunger and drive that would see the next string of releases such as "By my side", "She loves it" and his latest track "Burn". His singles have been hitting the airwaves on Triple J unearthed, Blakout and Soul CTRL. Yambra also features on Nate6 track "Dangerous" and the accompanying Music video.
